Travelers' Guide 2020-2021

Pray • Eat • Stay • Shop

 Welcome to TOKYO!

Welcome to Tokyo!

The Tokyo Muslim Travelers' Guide is designed to make your visit to Tokyo as comfortable as possible. The restaurants, lodgings, places of worship, and shops in this guide do their utmost to accommodate Muslim travelers. This guide also presents you with opportunities to experience Japan's traditional culture. Even establishments which primarily cater to Japanese customers are often able to accommodate Muslim travelers. Staff may be able to make changes such as menu substitutions, so please feel free to ask if needed. We wish you, our Muslim friends, an enjoyable and truly memorable stay in Tokyo!

Dining—JAPANESE FOOD

Sushi

Sushi is one of the most famous and delicious Japanese dishes. Tokyo has one of the best selections of fresh fish in the world, making it worth to taste.

Tempura

Tempura is made using a batter of flour and water, and usually deep-fried in vegetable oil. Vegetables, fish, and shrimp are common tempura ingredients.

Soba

Soba is a type of noodle made with buckwheat flour, usually served with a dipping sauce or in soy sauce-base soup. It is a traditional Japanese dish that is often Muslim-friendly.

Ramen

Generally, ramen consists of wheat noodles, served in a meat or fish-based broth, topped with sliced pork, eggs, etc., but there are a number of restaurants that offer ramen without pork. There are also vegetarian and vegan ramen shops with the indication of ingredients.

⚠ Be Careful!

Many dishes in Japan may contain alcohol (adding a condiment called “mirin”), pork, or gelatin even if not stated on the menu. This includes major Japanese condiments such as soy sauce and soy sauce-base soup, as they may include alcohol. Some restaurants offer a detailed list of ingredients available for reference. Also, some sushi restaurants can make sushi without mirin (a kind of alcohol) upon request.

Convenience Stores

Some foods contain preservatives and other non-halal ingredients, but there are a variety of affordable and delicious Muslim-friendly options available.

Tips for Getting by Smoothly in Japan

Exploring a new culture can sometimes be both surprising and frustrating. To help navigate any potential difficulties, here are some tips for getting around in Japan.

Manners in Public

Switch your phone to silent mode

Quiet please

Do not throw rubbish

No smoking

On the Train

When using public transportation (buses and trains, etc.), avoid speaking loudly or talking on the phone as it may disturb other commuters. Make sure to switch your phone to silent mode. Your phone should be turned off completely if near priority seats when the train is crowded. In inner-city areas, some train cars are reserved for women only during certain hours and days.

On the Street

Littering, smoking on the street, and smoking while walking are strictly prohibited in certain areas. Throw any trash you may have in the public bins provided, or take it home with you. Smokers should only smoke in designated areas.

Using Toilets

A number of public restrooms feature wheelchair-accessible toilets and diaper changing facilities. Many Western-style toilets in Japan have a toilet seat with bidet functions like Washlet with several buttons and icons. A guide to the main functions can be found on the left.

止 — Stop
おしり — Wash bottom
ビデ — Bidet
乾燥 — Drying function
大 — Large flush
小 — Small/eco flush

PRAY

Throughout Tokyo, you'll find several places of worship, from majestic dome-ceilinged mosques to prayer rooms owned and operated by Muslims in Tokyo. They also serve as a place of gathering for Muslims who wish to pray together, as well as an ideal way to meet and share information.

Delicious and exquisite! Japanese SWEETS

As you explore Tokyo, why not stop and enjoy some of the many different kinds of tasty Japanese sweets? Their colors and shapes are also lovely to look at, making them perfect gifts.

Dango

Dumplings made by kneading refined glutinous or regular rice flour into balls and boiling them. Mitarashi dango are dumplings served on a skewer and covered with a salty-sweet glaze made of soy sauce, sugar, and starch. There are also special kinds of dango for traditional events like moon viewing and cherry-blossom viewing.

Main ingredients: Refined glutinous or regular rice flour, potato starch, sugar, soy sauce, etc.

Ichigo daifuku

Daifuku consists of mochi (glutinous rice cakes) stuffed with adzuki bean paste. Ichigo daifuku, which first appeared in the 1980s, puts a modern twist on this time-honored Japanese sweet with the addition of fresh strawberries. You can find it in winter and spring, when strawberries are in season.

Main ingredients: Adzuki beans, sugar, glutinous rice flour, strawberries, etc.

Ohagi (Botamochi)

Steamed or cooked rice is pounded until sticky but still grainy, formed into balls, and then covered in sweet bean paste. The taste is sweet, with a faintly salty accent. There are versions made with both fine-grained and coarse-grained bean paste.

Main ingredients: Glutinous rice, rice, sugar, salt, adzuki beans (some may also contain sesame, roasted soybean flour, sweet green bean paste, etc.)

Shiratama Anmitsu

Regular anmitsu is a dessert in which cubes of agar jelly are topped with sweet red bean paste and honey or brown-sugar syrup. This version is also topped with shiratama, dumplings made of refined glutinous rice flour. You can find even more decadent versions that include ice cream and fruit.

Main ingredients: Agar, adzuki beans, sugar, refined glutinous rice flour, etc.

Kakigori

Finely shaved ice flavored with syrup. This treat is popular worldwide, especially in Asia, but the current trend in Japan is toward very luxurious varieties, such as shaved ice made from natural spring water and topped with fancy syrups.

Main ingredients: Water, syrup, etc.

Fu Manju

Steamed buns made of unbaked wheat gluten filled with fine-grained sweet bean paste. The taste is pleasantly cool, with a smooth, springy texture. The buns are often wrapped in bamboo leaves, which add an aromatic accent.

Main ingredients: Wheat flour, adzuki beans, sugar, mugwort, green dried seaweed, etc.

Kuri Kinton

Boiled chestnuts are pureed, mixed with sugar, and wrung with a tea cloth.

Many Japanese sweets incorporate chestnuts, but this autumn treat brings out their flavor to the fullest. The flavor fades quickly, so it has a short shelf life.

Main ingredients: Chestnuts, sugar

Taiyaki

Thin pancakes made from wheat flour are stuffed with sweet bean paste and grilled until crispy. Although bean paste is the most common filling, variations containing custard or savory fillings can also be found.

Main ingredients: Wheat flour, eggs, dairy, sugar, baking soda, adzuki beans, etc.

Fukiyose

An assortment of various kinds of cute, bite-sized dried snacks. These may include slightly sweet wheat crackers, salty rice crackers, kelp, and colorful rakugan (dried candies made of rice or other starchy flour and sugar, mixed and pressed into a pattern).

Main ingredients: Wheat flour, eggs, sugar, sesame, ginger, nuts, vegetable oil, food coloring, etc.

Konpeito

A crystal-like candy made by coating cores as tiny as poppy seeds with rock-sugar syrup a little at a time and heating them over the course of several days. The different flavorings and dyes added to the syrup produce a colorful appearance.

Main ingredients: Sugar, flavorings, food coloring, etc.

*Check before purchasing, as konpeito may very occasionally contain alcohol.

Nerikiri

The main ingredient in this gorgeous traditional confection is sweet white bean paste, which is easily tinted in different hues and molded into exquisite seasonal shapes. While mochi sweets have mass appeal, nerikiri is prized as a special treat for formal occasions such as the tea ceremony.

Main ingredients: White bean, sugar, food coloring, etc.

Traditional Sweets of Old Tokyo

A traditional Tokyo sweet that makes for an exciting show!

Kaminari Okoshi

A light, crispy snack consisting of puffed rice mixed with other ingredients like peanuts or syrup, and then formed into shapes. Okoshi has been around since the Heian period (794-1185), but kaminari okoshi was born in the nineteenth century in the Asakusa area. The name comes from Sensoji Temple's Kaminarimon Gate.

Main ingredients: Rice, starch syrup, sugar, peanuts, etc.

Sugar sculpture

Different forms of sugar sculpture can be found all over the world, but in Japan, it has also developed as a kind of street performance. Street entertainers use simple tools like scissors and writing brushes to create colorful works of art on the spot at the customer's request. They're so gorgeous that it almost feels like a shame to eat them!

Main ingredients: Sugar, starch syrup, granulated sugar, alternative sweeteners, food coloring, etc.

SHOP

Shopping is one of the highlights of any trip, isn't it? Tokyo is absolutely packed with department stores, specialty shops, tax-free stores, and much more. There are even shops that sell halal foods and ingredients for Muslim shoppers. They're great for cooking if you're staying in a guest house, or for bringing home as souvenirs. Don't miss your chance!

Enjoy what one of the world's major fashion capitals has to offer

Salons

If you wish, you can pamper yourself with ease at some hair salons that offer private rooms and women-only staff.

Nails

If you would like to decorate your nails, you don't need to worry. You can find water permeable or breathable nail polish with a variety of colors.

STAY

This section covers lodgings in Tokyo, ranging from premium hotels to casual guest houses. Whatever your needs, you can find your ideal lodging here. Many facilities also provide space for prayer, and can even lend you prayer items. All of the lodgings listed here are able to accommodate the lifestyle and practices of Muslim guests while providing the very best of Japanese hospitality.

VISITING TIPS

Concierge

The concierge at your hotel is a great resource and can provide information about dining, shopping, and other activity recommendations across the city. They will also make reservations for restaurants and book tours or transportation if needed.

Tipping

There is no tipping culture in Japan. Generally, the price listed on the bill includes tax and indicates the exact amount to be paid. Please note that some establishments charge a service fee or cover charge.

Luggage Delivery Service

Getting from the airport to the hotel and vice versa can be a stressful experience. Ease your load by using a luggage delivery service. That way, you can get around the city hands-free.

An accommodation tax is levied when staying at hotels in Tokyo.

Room charge (one night per person)	Less than ¥10,000	¥10,000 to less than ¥15,000	¥15,000 or more
Amount of tax	Tax-free	¥100	¥200

The accommodation tax will not be levied for three months from July 1 through September 30, 2020 because of the hosting of the Tokyo 2020 Olympic and Paralympic Games.

*The tax is used for the promotion of tourism in Tokyo, such as the issuing of this publication and the enhancement of the quality of tourist information services.

Staying calm and taking the necessary steps

What To Do in an Emergency

This information will help you in the event of disasters such as earthquakes, storms, floods, or fires, theft, lost items, and other emergencies.

Disasters

Earthquakes

What to do

If you feel shaking from an earthquake, remain calm and take steps to protect your body. Act in an orderly manner; do not panic or run.

How to protect yourself

●Indoors

Watch out for objects that may fall or topple over. Stay away from anything made of glass such as windows, TVs, or furniture, and protect your body by crouching under a table, etc. Once the shaking has subsided, make sure the gas is turned off and there are no sources of fire. Open doors or windows so that you can evacuate if necessary. Wear slippers or shoes indoors if there are fallen objects.

●Outdoors

Make sure you are not near any objects that may fall or topple over. Protect your head using your bag, etc. If you are inside an underground shopping complex and the power goes out, do not panic nor rush for the exit. Instead, wait for the shaking to subside, and then move along the walls toward the emergency exit.

If you are inside an elevator

As soon as you feel any shaking, press the buttons for all of the floors and get off wherever the elevator stops. If you are trapped inside the elevator, use the intercom to call for help. Do not use elevators to evacuate, since you can become trapped inside due to aftershocks or power outages.

Watch out for tsunamis!

An earthquake may be followed by a tsunami. Stay away from waterfronts and low-lying ground. If you are near the sea, immediately flee toward nearby high ground, a tsunami evacuation building, or a taller structure. Tsunamis can also travel against the current of a river. Flee in a direction perpendicular to the river.

Watch out for aftershocks!

A strong earthquake may be followed by multiple aftershocks. Be careful, as aftershocks may cause landslides or the collapse of buildings.

Storms/Floods

Heavy Rain/Violent Storms

Pay attention to weather information. In the event of heavy rain, stay away from rivers and underpasses. If you are near a cliff, watch out for landslides. Be careful not to fall into open manholes or gutters. If you are in an area that is underground or partially underground and there is a danger of flooding, move to a safe location above ground.

Tornadoes

If you are indoors, close any storm shutters and/or curtains, move away from the windows, and crouch under a sturdy table, etc. If you are outdoors, take shelter inside an underground facility or a sturdy structure made of a material like reinforced concrete, and wait for the tornado to pass.

Fires

What to do

If you notice a fire, alert those around you by shouting "Fire!" (Kaji da!) and dial 119 for the fire department. Cover your mouth and nose with a handkerchief, etc. so that you do not breathe in smoke, and stay close to the ground as you move. If you cannot see your surroundings due to smoke, move along the walls. If you are inside a hotel, etc., follow the instructions of staff.

Theft/Lost Items

Report the matter to the police, who will issue a certificate of theft or loss. If you accidentally left an item on a train or bus or inside a taxi, contact the respective operating company.

If your passport is stolen or lost

Contact your country's embassy or consulate to have the passport invalidated and issue an emergency passport or travel document for returning to your home country.
www.mofa.go.jp/about/emb_cons/protocol/

If your credit card is stolen or lost

Immediately call the credit-card company's emergency hotline to cancel your card.

Evacuation Shelters

What are evacuation shelters?

Evacuation shelters are spaces that temporarily accept and shelter people who have been forced to leave their homes due to a disaster. They also provide disaster-related information and essential supplies like water. Evacuation shelters are usually located inside a public facility such as a school, and accept foreigners. Travel on foot and take as little with you as possible.

Notes on evacuating

When evacuating, travel on foot and take as little with you as possible. Make sure you have valuables such as your passport or residence card, mobile phone, and charger.

Evacuation signage for different types of disasters

When walking around Tokyo, you will probably notice many signs indicating locations or facilities where you should evacuate. When you are near rivers or the sea, also keep an eye out for signage on how to escape a tsunami.

List of Hospitals and Clinics With English-Speaking Staff and Female Doctors

It can be tough for Muslim travelers if you happen to become ill or injured during your trip, especially for women. However, there are many hospitals and clinics throughout Tokyo with women doctors on staff. What's more, all of the facilities listed here have English-speaking staff. Enjoy your time in Tokyo with added peace of mind!

*Due to working schedules, we cannot guarantee that female doctors or English-speaking staff are available 24/7.

*Please contact the facility you intend to visit by phone and speak to the staff before arriving.
